

Shelly Asher has over 25 years' experience leading and growing healthcare technology and service businesses. In his last assignment, as President and CEO of Omnicell, Inc., Shelly spearheaded the company's early success in pharmacy drug distribution and medical supply chain management. He was the catalyst for, and managed Omnicell's successful initial public stock offering. As the 20th employee of Caremark, Inc, Shelly was an early participant in the then-nascent home infusion care industry, growing the company to 90 offices, with 2500 employees and $550 million in revenue. Subsequently, in Shelly's second year as President and CEO of OptionCare, Inc., a franchised network of 200 home infusion care pharmacies, he led the company's initial public stock offering after quadrupling earnings per share.

Shelly has been an avid lifelong ping pong player and is pleased to be supporting Ping Pong For Good, its programs and initiatives
